Career Resource Center (858) 577-6710

The Career Resource Center offers information and assistance to aid military service members, retirees, veterans, DOD civilian employees and their family members in career planning and job search.

- Disabled American Veterans (DAV), Veteran's Affairs (VA) and Employment Development Department (EDD) representatives are on-site.
- Automated services consist of computer work stations for use in preparing resumes, cover letters and federal applications.
- Internet capability is available on all computers.
- Fax service, copies and a telephone for employer contact is available.
- The Resource Library has newspaper publications, video and books on the job market and how to better prepare yourself.
- Employment listings for local, nationwide and overseas employers are updated daily.
- Our services are provided for free.
- We have friendly and helpful staff to assist you and answer questions.

Transition Assistance Program (TAP) Workshops (858) 577-8965

Moving from military to civilian life can be an exciting and much anticipated process, but also a bit nerve-wrecking. TAP has developed a series of classes designed to arm you with the knowledge you need to succeed to make an effective transition from military to civilian life. Classes are tailored to non-retiring enlisted personnel, junior officers and retiring senior military personnel.

Spouse Transition Classes are offered to spouses with a deployed military sponsor, knowing that the service person will retire or end active service shortly after returning to MCAS Miramar. Spouses are invited and encouraged to attend our four-day transition class to learn information that may assist the family with future relocation and employment. Reservations can be made 30 to 60 days in advance of the class date. Spouses are always welcome to attend our transition program when their military service member attends.

Employment Assistance Workshops (858) 577-6491

The workshops provide guidance on the Federal Employment Application process, such as how to handle difficult and common interview questions and successful techniques for developing a resume.

Computerized Skills & Self-Assessment

These programs help job seekers make career and educational choices based on interests, skills and personality types.

Family Member Employment Assistance

Military Spouses seeking employment or changing career paths or are new to the area are strongly encouraged to use the services and resources available at the Career Resource Center.

Cyber Center

The Cyber Center provides a place for everyone to have internet access, whether for e-mail, games, X-Box Live, or just to go online. For gamers, the Cyber Center has the most up-to-date equipment with intense graphics, web cam and more! The game selections are continually updated so you're always playing the most current version.

Join our online gaming tournaments or create your own! The Cyber Center is the premiere center for your gaming needs!

Distance Learning Center (858) 577-8743

The Distance Learning Center is designed to provide Marines with anytime access to E-learning resources. Using the Center, Marines have access to thousands of courses covering a wide variety of subjects from military skills to technology and personal development courses. Marines also have access to the current family of electronic Tactical Decision Simulations which support their PME curricula. Finally, Marines can complete online examinations for MARINET and MCI courses delivered from the Distance Learning Center and receive self-education bonus points that count toward promotion.

Education Center (858) 577-1801

Whether you're finishing up or just getting started, the Education Center has innumerable ways for you to reach your educational goals. And the staff is highly in tune with the demands of military life and has developed several programs that enable military personnel to advance educationally in spite of obstacles. Whether you want to earn a degree or simply gain a new skill, the Education Center offers flexible and effective ways to further your goals and maximize your time.

The Education Center includes classrooms in which colleges teach a wide range of courses. The Center currently offers programs at the certificate, associates, bachelors and masters levels.

They also proctor a wide range of exams to include Military Classification Tests, Pearson-Vue, Air University, FAA, SAT, ACT and college distance education exams free to active duty service members. Many of these proctoring services are available free of charge or for a minimal fee to retirees and family members.

Additional programs include courses via the internet, SMART transcripts and the Military Apprenticeship Program.

In addition to all of these programs and courses, the Education Center has knowledgeable and helpful staff on hand to answer questions and provide valuable information concerning your educational interests.
